Saint Edward High School vs. Neumann Goretti	1/9/26	Prepared by: Coach Donelon

Neumann Goretti enters the Burger King Classic with an overall record of 8–1 and is currently ranked #77 nationally. They are a very athletic team that wants to push the pace, looking to get out in transition and attack through dribble-drive action. Their athleticism can beat you if you allow second chances, so it is critical that we keep them off the glass and out of the paint. Defensively, they will primarily play man-to-man and show some token full-court pressure to speed you up. They struggle in transition defense and can be late on half-court rotations, creating advantages if we move the ball with the pass, play with composure, and attack gaps consistently.

#2 Stephan Ashley-Wright 6'1		57% FT	#5 Ernest E.J. 6'1		50% FT
Quick, explosive guard who looks to push in transition and attack with his first step. He can stop and pull up on a dime, use a floater in the lane, and finish going left or right, but does not finish well through contact. Off the ball, he is primarily a catch-and-shoot threat, with 34% of his FGA from three, shooting 25%. Limit paint touches, keep him in front, and force contested finishes.			Shifty guard with good handles who does an excellent job of changing directions to create space and get into scoring spots. He is comfortable attacking off movement and can make plays when defenders overcommit, so we must keep him in front and stay disciplined. Offensively, he is primarily a catch-and-shoot perimeter threat, with 74% of his field-goal attempts coming from three-point range, where he is shooting 38% on the season. We must be alert on closeouts, arrive under control, and run him off the line to force him into tougher, contested looks off the dribble.

#3 Kody Colson 5'11		86% FT	#11 London Collins 6'0		71% FT
Quick, small, explosive guard with good court vision who plays best in space. He actively looks to catch and shoot from outside, especially spotting up in rhythm. In transition, he will leak out to the deep corners hunting early threes. A high-volume perimeter shooter, 71% of his field-goal attempts have come from three, where he is currently shooting 28%. Priority is to locate him early, take away clean catch-and-shoot looks, and stay connected in transition.			Explosive, athletic guard who can play above the rim and puts constant pressure on the defense. He will look to finish at the rim using a euro step and heavily favors finishing LEFT, which must be taken away. From the perimeter, he is a confident catch-and-shoot threat, doing a good job of using a jab step to create space on outside shots. 50% of his field-goal attempts come from three, and he is shooting 41% from deep on the season, making him dangerous if given clean looks. Key focus: keep him in front, eliminate straight-line drives, and contest without allowing rhythm threes.
RIGHTY	SENIOR	13.7 PPG
#0 Deshawn Yates 5'10		77% FT
Drive-first guard who consistently looks to attack off the bounce and put pressure on the rim. Only 22% of his field-goal attempts have come from three, but he is shooting 64% from beyond the arc on the season, making him dangerous if left open. He will leak out in transition, so we must locate him early. Around the basket, he has the ability to finish going both left and right and will frequently use a floater to score in traffic.
RIGHTY	JUNIOR	12.2 PPG
#10 Marquis Newson 6'5		87% FT
Long stretch forward who uses his length to score at multiple levels. He can attack the rim off the dribble, finishing left or right, and will stop on the dribble for pull-up jumpers. Uses shot fakes and a spin back to the middle to create space and can step out and shoot from outside. 28.5% of his FGA come from three, where he is shooting 13%. Active rebounder (6.3 RPG). Key: eliminate paint touches and keep him off the glass.
#21 Allassane N'Diaye 6'6		54% FT
Physical post presence who looks to score from the high post and will attack baseline from the right block. He does not consistently run the floor hard and can slow the pace in transition, but he is effective on offensive put-backs. On the season, 24.6% of his FGA are from three, where he is shooting 29%, and he averages 8.2 rebounds per game. Key focus: wall up in the paint and keep him off the glass.
