Saint Edward High School vs. Sandusky	12/16/2025	Prepared by: Coach Donelon

Sandusky enters our contest with an overall record of 2–2 and will be coming off a road game at Perkins on 12/19/25. A year ago, Sandusky established itself as one of the top teams in the state, finishing the season as a Final Four team, and they bring that same confidence and identity into this matchup.
Statistically, Sandusky averages 67.5 points per game while pulling down 33.0 rebounds per contest, including 20.0 defensive rebounds and 13.0 offensive rebounds, showing their ability to generate second-chance opportunities. They average 14.3 assists per game, reflecting a willingness to share the basketball, along with 7.8 steals and 2.8 blocks per game, highlighting their activity and length on the defensive end. Sandusky commits 13.0 turnovers per game and averages 18.5 fouls, which can create opportunities for us if we stay poised and attack with purpose.From a style-of-play standpoint, Sandusky is very long and athletic and will look to push the ball in transition whenever possible. Defensively, they are aggressive and disruptive, frequently gambling and jumping passing lanes, while also mixing in run-and-jump pressure. In the half court, they have shown the ability to blitz ball screens and will fight over the top to stay connected to shooters.For us, this is a game where we

Favorite Sets	Last 2 Minute Sets/ Special Situations
5 out Motion	BLOB - Box to Alley OOP
Hit - Screen Ball	BLOB - Box S+S
Hit - PG Screens Away	BLOB - Box to Ball Screen
ISO Ball
Wing Entry - Staggered away
Box to DHO

Offensive Tendencies	Defensive Tendencies
Looking to get out in transition	Primarily looking to show man to man in the half court
Rely heavily on ISO ball	THEY WILL JUMP PASSING LANES
As a team they shoot 33% from 3pt and 62% from FT	Have shown some run and jump and token pressure in full court
Averaging 13 offensive rebounds per game	Run and jump - They have trapped to and from behind the ball
Off ball they have a habit of standing and watching	Ball Screens - They will look to BLITZ and fight over the top
	DHO - They have switched at times or fight through Transition defense - struggle getting below the line of the ball

Strengths	Weaknesses
Transition offense	Bench Production
Ability to drive the ball	Shooting 33% as team from 3pt
Length as team	Transition Defense - Slow to get below line of ball
Jump the passing lanes for Steals - Deflections	Slow rotations in half court defense
Quick in the open court

LAST FIVE GAMES

Date	Opponent	Score	Leading Scorer	Leading Rebounds	Leading Assists
12/13	Norwalk	58 - 29 W	#30 - 17 points	#0 - 10 rebounds	#23 - 3 assists
12/12	Scott	65 - 40 W	#0 - 20 points	#0 - 11 rebounds	#4 - 4 assists
12/6	Lexington	69 - 67 L	#23 - 23 points	#0 - 14 rebounds	#30/5/32 - 3 assists
12/4	Margaretta	87-80 L	#30 - 31 points	#0 - 10 rebounds	#30 - 6 assists

Keys To Victory
	NO FACE CUTS	MOVE WITHOUT THE BALL
	TRANSITION DEFENSE	LIMIT TURNOVERS
	REBOUNDING - OWN THE GLASS	PLAY WITH ENERGY AND SWAG

Thoughts for the game

PLAY ST. EDWARD HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

GUYS TO FOUL IN LATE GAME SITUATION	GUYS TO AVOID FOULINIG
#5 - #4 - #30 - #0	#23

STARTERS

RIGHTY			JUNIOR	10.3 PPG	FACILITATOR
#5 Camrion Jones 5'10				63% FT

Small, quick guard who excels in the open court and does a good job seeing the floor and creating for others. He plays with pace in transition and looks to initiate offense early, showing solid vision as a primary ball-handler.
He is shooting 6 of 17 from three (35%) on the season. His shot has a low release, so defenders should close out hard and run him off the three-point line. He is comfortable knocking down catch-and-shoot mid-range jumpers, particularly when pulling up off the dribble.
When attacking the basket, he does not seek contact and prefers to avoid physical finishes. He wants to drive right, where he looks to score with a floater rather than finishing through defenders. Defensively, the priority is to shade him left, take away clean pull-ups, and force him into traffic where he is less effective.

RIGHTY			JUNIOR	6.3 PPG	SHOOTER
#4 Ahmaj Woolfork 6'4				43% FT

He is a long wing who plays as a drive-first guard, using an explosive first step to get downhill and attack the rim. His primary mindset is to score in the paint, and he is most effective when he is able to turn the corner and apply pressure at the basket, making it important to keep him out of the lane. While driving is his strength, he will also step into catch-and-shoot opportunities from the perimeter when left open, shooting 2 of 4 from three on the season. He looks to leak out early in transition to create easy scoring chances, so locating him quickly in transition is critical. Additionally, he is very active on the glass, consistently pursuing rebounds, which makes it essential to keep him off the boards and finish possessions with strong box-outs.

RIGHTY			SENIOR	18 PPG	SHOOTER
#30 Dale Johnson 6'6				69% FT

Long, athletic big who runs the floor well in transition and is an effective rim runner. Consistently cuts hard to the rim and looks for dump-off opportunities around the basket. Capable of knocking down a mid-range pull-up jumper and will shoot from the perimeter if left open, though efficiency is limited (2-for-10 from three-point range on the season).

On the right block, he is comfortable going to a turnaround jumper or attacking baseline off the catch. Very active on the glass, generating second-chance points through offensive put-backs—must be boxed out and kept off the boards.

RIGHTY	SENIOR	9.8 PPG	GLASS - DUMP OFFS
#0 Anthony Redding 6'6		43% FT

High-motor forward who plays with consistent energy but has shown limited offensive involvement over the course of the season. He will catch and shoot from the perimeter only when he is completely wide open and is currently 0-for-1 from three on the year. His primary offensive impact comes from running the floor hard in transition as a very good rim runner, looking to score on rim runs, dump-offs, and offensive put-backs. He generates extra possessions with his activity around the basket, making it critical to keep him off the glass and eliminate second-chance opportunities.

RIGHTY	JUNIOR	12.8 PPG	POST - GLASS GUY
#23 Kymirr Hunter 6'4		73% FT

He is a very big, physical post player who looks to use his size and strength to bully defenders around the rim. He does not run the floor extremely well, but he does a very good job of establishing a strong post presence once the offense is set. On the left block, he will look to attack middle, while on the right block he prefers to attack baseline. He looks to score off drives and dump-offs, and he is comfortable facing up and knocking down a mid-range jump shot from the short corner.

He is very active on the glass, particularly on the offensive boards, and consistently looks for second-chance opportunities. Defensively, it is important to wall up and force him to finish over length and discipline. Emphasis should be placed on making him run the court in transition and keeping him off the glass, as limiting his rebounding opportunities will significantly reduce his impact.

Thoughts for the game

PLAY ST. EDWARD HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL

GUYS TO FOUL IN LATE GAME SITUATION	GUYS TO AVOID FOULINIG
#2 - #3 - #32	#24

BENCH

RIGHTY JUNIOR .5 PPG — DRIVER - PULL UP JUMPER

#2 Ta'Varieon Myers 6'1 NO ATT

This guard is a long, athletic perimeter player who looks to create offense off the dribble. He has an explosive first step to the rim but does not look to finish through contact once he gets there. He will pull up for a jump shot off the dribble and is currently 0-for-4 from three-point range on the season, making him more effective when attacking downhill rather than as a catch-and-shoot threat.

Despite playing on the perimeter, he is very active on the glass and will crash from the guard spot to generate extra possessions. Defensively, it is important to keep him off the boards, keep him in front, and avoid allowing straight-line drives into the paint, where he is most dangerous using his quickness.

RIGHTY JUNIOR 0 PPG — ROLE PLAYER

#3 Dereon Scott 5'9 NO ATT

He is a role player who has seen limited action this season. To this point, he has yet to make an impact on the offensive end of the floor and is not a primary scoring threat. However, he does contribute through effort plays, as he is active on the glass and will pursue rebounds. When put under pressure, he can be forced into turnovers, making it important to apply ball pressure and disrupt his decision-making when he handles the ball.

RIGHTY JUNIOR 3.5 PPG — POST - SHORT CORNER/ F. LINE

#24 Camren Daniels 6'5 100% FT

He is a post player who looks to establish position early and be a consistent interior presence. From the left block, he is primarily looking to attack middle, often using a spin move back to the lane to create scoring opportunities. He does a good job of flashing to the middle and will also step out to shoot from the foul-line extended, as well as knock down short-corner jump shots when available.

He is very active on the offensive glass, generating second-chance points through offensive put-backs. While he is capable around the rim, he can be forced into taking off-balance shots with physical defense and good positioning. Defensively and in transition, we need to make him run the court, keep him off the glass, and be physical on the catch to limit his effectiveness inside.

RIGHTY JUNIOR 6 PPG — GUARD - SHOOTER

#32 Daishun Brown 5'2 33% FT

He is a small guard who can really shoot the basketball and is currently a perfect 4-for-4 from three-point range on the season. He has deep shooting range and is a constant threat beyond the arc, moving well without the ball to find open windows for catch-and-shoot opportunities. He is also comfortable pulling up for a jump shot off the dribble, especially when defenders go under screens or give him space.

Off the bounce, he has good handles and will look to create separation using a hesitation dribble, crossover, or other change-of-direction moves to get to the rim. Defensively, we must make it a priority to close out under control and run him off the three-point line. We need to be physical with him, disrupt his rhythm, and make every catch and dribble difficult to take him out of his comfort zone.