Saint Edward High School vs. Berea-Midpark	12/23/2025	Prepared by: Coach Donelon

Berea-Midpark enters our contest with a 5–2 record and is a young, energetic team looking to capitalize on their strengths. Offensively, they excel at driving into the lane and kicking out to open shooters, attempting approximately 27 three-point shots per game. Defensively, they apply aggressive full-court pressure, alternating between a 1-2-2 and 2-2-1 setup. In the 1-2-2, they frequently trap on the pass and on reversals back to the inbounder, looking to create turnovers and generate easy transition points. To secure a victory, we must focus on playing St. Edward High School Basketball by doing the little things—executing with discipline, valuing each possession, and maintaining composure under pressure.

STARTERS

RIGHTY			SENIOR	3.3 PPG	FACILITATOR
#1 Dylan Maddox	6'1	175 LB		33.3% FT

Drive-first guard with an explosive first step who consistently looks to attack the rim and can finish through contact. When help arrives, he is comfortable using a floater to score in traffic. He is effective pulling up for a mid-range jump shot off the dribble and will look to get to his spots inside the arc. However, he has struggled shooting the three this season, making it important to gap him, go under ball screens when appropriate, and force him to beat us from deep rather than off the drive.

RIGHTY			JUNIOR	20.7 PPG	DRIVE 1ST
#3 Tyson Clay	5'9	150 LB		45.5% FT

Very quick primary point guard who is most dangerous in the open court. He has solid ball-handling skills with good court vision and has shown the ability to drive both left and right to finish at the rim. Possesses an explosive first step and will use crossovers along with changes of speed and direction to create separation. When attacking the paint, he looks to finish with a floater or a Euro step.

From the perimeter, he is a catch-and-shoot threat who can build confidence if left unguarded—do not let him get hot. Defensively, the priority is to keep him in front, take away straight-line drives, and force him into contested shots.

RIGHTY			JUNIOR	20 PPG	SCORER
#11 Nick Reece	6'1	190 LB		68.4% FT

He has decent handles but can be pressured into turnovers, especially when forced to play in tight spaces. He looks to catch and shoot from the perimeter, with 34.5% of his field-goal attempts coming from three, though he is currently shooting just 15.8% from beyond the arc, so be prepared to close out under control. When he puts the ball on the floor, he prefers to drive right, where he looks to avoid contact and will often rely on a floater to finish at the rim. He does not finish well through physical play, making it important to force him left and body him on drives. He is also active on the glass, consistently crashing from the perimeter and averaging 6.6 rebounds per game, so defenders must hit and locate him after shots.

RIGHTY			JUNIOR	9.7 PPG	STRETCH FORWARD
#4 Reid Braaten	6'3	200 LB		33.3% FT

He is a high-volume three-point shooter with a quick release, consistently looking to get shots up from beyond the arc. Seventeen of his 27 field-goal attempts have come from three-point range, and he is currently 5 of 17 on the season from three, making the perimeter his primary scoring area. Defensively, the focus must be to run him off the line and force him to become a driver. When he puts the ball on the floor, he is most comfortable driving to his right and does not finish well through contact at the rim, often settling for a floater. Hard, controlled closeouts and taking away rhythm catch-and-shoot looks are essential, while staying disciplined to contain his right-hand drive.

RIGHTY			SENIOR	2 PPG	POST - GLASS GUY
#13 Cal Maloney	6'3	240 LB		NO ATT

This undersized big brings a football-type physical presence in the paint and looks to play through contact. On the right block, he will attack both baseline and middle and is comfortable facing up, while on the left block he prefers to go middle before spinning back baseline. He is not an efficient scorer at the rim, so it is important to wall up, stay physical, and make him finish over length. He is not a threat from the perimeter and does not look to shoot from outside. His biggest impact comes from crashing the glass, making it a priority to keep him off the boards.

BENCH

RIGHTY FROSH 2.3 PPG DRIVER - PULL UP JUMPER

#2 Sam Marr 6'1 NO ATT

He is a physical guard who looks to attack gaps and will spin back to the middle when driving. He cuts hard to the rim, finishes through contact, and will leak out in transition if not matched early. On the perimeter, he is willing to catch and shoot or pull up off the dribble, but he needs time and space to get set and can be rushed into taking poor shots. He relies heavily on the three-point shot, with roughly half of his field-goal attempts coming from beyond the arc, and he is currently 1-for-4 from three on the season.

RIGHTY JUNIOR INJ.

#10 Andre' Alexander 5'9

Drive-first guard who is very quick in the open court and puts consistent pressure on the defense off the bounce. He has shown the ability to finish going both left and right at the rim, using a floater when needed and is capable of finishing through contact. He will change speeds and direction effectively, relying on crossovers and Euro steps to create advantages in the paint. Off the ball, he moves well and looks for opportunities, so defenders must stay alert and take away face cuts. He has dealt with injuries this season, but when available, he plays aggressively and confidently. Defensive priority: keep him in front, limit penetration, and allow no paint touches.

RIGHTY SENIOR 5.7 PPG 3 POINT SHOOTER

#12 Vincent Weaver 6'1 170 LB NO ATT

High-volume perimeter shooter whose offensive game is heavily centered around the three-point line. Fifteen of his nineteen field-goal attempts this season have come from beyond the arc, where he is shooting 5-of-15 (33.3%). He is constantly looking to spot up or relocate for catch-and-shoot opportunities and is most effective when his feet are set.

Defensively, the priority is to run him off the line with hard, disciplined closeouts and force him to put the ball on the floor. Make him operate as a driver rather than a shooter, where he is far less comfortable and less efficient. Stay connected in help and recover situations and do not allow him clean catch-and-shoot looks from three.

RIGHTY FROSH ROLE PLAYER

#0 Thomas Harrington 5'11

He is a scrappy guard who fills a role-player spot within the rotation and brings energy when on the floor. He is a shoot-first guard by nature, looking to score when opportunities present themselves rather than facilitate the offense. He shows solid ball-handling ability, but with consistent pressure he can be forced into turnovers. Overall, his impact has come in limited action, where he provides effort and toughness but remains situational in his role.
